Congratulations on your admission to the Penn State Smeal MBA Program. You have been admitted to a program that has the vast resources of a major university at the ready while encompassing the camaraderie, community and the sense of family that comes with a small program dedicated to personal focus. The Student Services Team would like to extend a warm welcome to you. We are proud to be part of the Smeal MBA Program and are here to help as you consider your decision to attend Penn State.

This letter begins a series of communication messages you will receive from us on a weekly basis. The intent of the "Monday Message" series is to keep you informed and connected to Smeal and, above all, to provide you with instructions or information relevant to your arrival at Penn State and acclimation into the MBA Program.

In addition to our weekly messages, we will communicate a vast majority of pertinent information through the Admitted Students Website. The site provides a wide range of detail on university resources, State College and the surrounding community, commonly referred to as "Happy Valley." For those who have already made the decision to attend Penn State, we are optimistic that you will find the site useful and an aid in your transition to life as an MBA student here at Penn State. For others that are still in that process, we hope that the site provides you with information important to you and your decision factors. In particular, the Incoming Student Checklist is a great first look.

Here is a preview of what to expect from our letters and the website reference over the next couple of months:

- Housing – if you haven't already secured housing you will want to make it a priority.
- Football Tickets – the process and specific details will be forthcoming.
- Pre-Work – lots of preparation comes prior to joining the MBA Programs – watch for details on accounting preparation, MBA Math, PCS process, etc.
- Laptops
- Highlights of 'what to do' or 'action items'

A good deal of information is on the website already and we will continue to update on a regular basis.

Again, congratulations and we look forward to getting to know you further.

Sincerely,
MBA Student Services
